IPAS 2018 - 8th edition of the International Precision Assembly Seminar

The 8th edition of the International Precision Assembly Seminar will be held in Chamonix, France, from 14 to 16 January 2018. It will continue the tradition of bringing together the international research and industrial communities in precision assembly processes and systems. The seminar will have a specific focus on informatics and digital technologies for precision assembly. Originally conceived by the micro-assembly community, the seminar has now grown to include a wide scope of assembly processes and applications from micro products to large aerostructures where precision, efficiency and quality are of critical importance.
